To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is to urge your support of Seth Suydam and his pursuit of a degree in Engineering. I have been an educator for over 25 years and have never met a better investment than Seth. Seth exceeds every student I have ever worked with in his academic performance, dedication to his own learning, and his commitment to doing the best job possible on any endeavor he undertakes or is assigned. This superior performance is accompanied by an utterly unpretentious, selfless attitude that generates only admirers, not a single detractor.

Seth is the gold standard for both quality of work and congeniality. If one is considering how to generate the most benefit to society from investing in the education of a single individual, I assert boldly that Seth Suydam is that person.

I cannot give a higher recommendation to anyone I have ever known. In addition, I know enough of Seth's financial situation to know fiscal help will make a difference in his education. I hope you will support his career in higher education; there will be a big return for all of us.

Sincerely,

Claude "Chip" McMillan III, Ph.D.
